The Intercolonial Railway.

Our readers will recyllect that last fall Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia sent three delegates-one from each Province-to England to induce the Imperial Government to guarantee the interest on the capital necessary to connect Quebec with Halifax by railroad. Owing to the rhreatening aspect of affairs between Grent Britain and the United States arising from the capturing of Mason and Slidell on board the Trent, the Ministry were unable to deal with the railway question. After the Trent affair was settled, it appears that the subject was taken up in earnest, and in a despatch dated April 12th, the Duke of Newcastle laid the decision of the cabinet before the governments of the eastern Provinces. The proposition made by the Delegates was, that each province should guarantee to pay annually £20,-000, and the Imperial government pay annually £60,000, in all £120,000, to meet the interest. The distance to be traversed by the railroad was set down by them at 350 miles, and the capital necessary to build it £3,000,000, after deducting the cost of the right of way. The selection of the route was to be left with the British government. The Duke of Newcastle expresses regret that that the cabinet cannot concur in such a pro position; but that it feels willing to "promote a trunk line of railway over British ground, between the Atlantic and the westernmost parts of Canada, and consequently Her Majesty's government is willing to offer to the Provincial governments an Imperial guarantee of interest towards enabling them to to raise by public loan, if they should desire it, at a moderate rate, the requsite funds for constructing the railway." He adds that the nature and extent of the guarantee will depend on the scheme which the Provincial governments may found on the proposal he ing to oner. What may be interred from the Duke's despatch is simply this: if Canada, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia are willing to vote£40,000 a year each, instead of £20,000, to meet the annual interest, and offer such security as will satisfy the Imperial governments, it will guarantee the loan; otherwise it will not. In the present depressed state of Provincial finances, the idea of doubling the guarantee of interest will not be received very favorably. Canada, it is likely, may argree to the terms. She must have an outlet in winter for her produce; but whether the Lower Provinces will come to the terms is a somewhat doubtful matter. New Brunswick has a smaller population and a larger debt than Nova Scotia; but the longest line of the proposed intercolonial railroad runs through her territory. Lying intermediately between Canada and Nova Scotia, she cannot possess either the eastern or the western terminus Branch roads to St. John and the Gulf shore with the advantages accruing from running a great railroad through her territory may, ultimately, induce her to guarantee the £40,000 interest annually. Nova Scotia has however, a greater interest in the matter. Halifax must be the eastern terminus-the Atlantic wharf of British America. The whole of the railroad travel and traffic passing to or from the other provinces to England and Europe must enter and centre there. Looking to the future, to a railroad connecting Vancouver Island with Canada, Halifax, like Victoria, would become one of the most important points on the continent in the line between Europe and Asia. Our late provincial exchanges, however, throw no light on the subject whatever, whether Nova ADVANCES MADE on gold dust left for assay of flow, New West Scotia, with the advantages present and future, will agree to the terms. It is certainly to be hoped that she may; or that General some scheme may be adopted to build the intercolonial railway.

If we regard it with reference to military operations, in case of an outbreak with the States-if we look at it as a means to promote the federation of the provinces, and break up their petty politics and cut-throat tariffs, it is not only an intercolonial but a national work-one towards which the Imperial government might show more liberality than in the despatch of the Duke of Newcastle.

Remote as we are, we confess that we feel a deep interest in the undertaking. Our future interests commercially and politically are deeply involved in the work. Let it be constructed within the next three or four quantities to suffice any part of the town in quantities to suff. years, and a Pacific railroad will be a certainty. Once let the line be opened from Halifax to Quebec, and continuous railraad communication will exist from the Chebucto

THE BRITISH COLONIST Bay to Lake Huron. Nearly one-half of a Pacific and Atlantic railroad would be com-pleted. The western half, to reach our city, would soon follow, linking British commerce together from ocean to ocean politically and commercially, forming a new highway for European and Asiatic trade. On the contrary, if England fails to co-operate with the provinces in fulfilling speedily the high destiny apparent for British commerce we shall be made dependent on our republican cousins. There can be little doubt that an overland railroad will be the first great national work after the conclusion of the present urhappy war. If so we can only hope to share in the advantages of Asiatic commerce with Europe and the Atlantic States, by a branch railroad from Olympia to the grand trunk line across the continent Our geographical position and our free trade doctrines maintained, would no doubt enable us then to participate in the trans-continental-Asiatic trade; but without such a branch road, we would the more deeply lament the policy of the Imperial government if it should prevent the Provinces from completing the first great link of a Pacific and Atlantic sailroad through British America.

No Mercy—Parson Brownlow will not give abolutionism much aid and comfort in the course of his lecture tour, judging by his treatment of it at Cincinnati. He says:

"The South, as I have told them face to face, is more to blame than the North; and yet I have to say that if two years ago I had been authorized to hunt up and collect them. I would have selected about one or two hundred anti-slavery fanaties (I know them well) and about an equal number Godforsaken, hell-deserving disunionists: I would have marched them to the District of Columbia; I would then have dug a ditch—a common ditch—and wrapped up their bodies in gypsum wheat and dog-fennel, and buried them there.

Had this been done then, I should not have been here to-night.

THE OTHER SIDE.—Mr. Russell, the London Times' correspondent denies, in private, that he was treated with the rudeness with which some of the newspaper correspondents have represented, at Fortress Monroe, and by General Viiet, at Alexandria. He says he has no occasion to feel aggreed at his treatment by the military authorities, and he left the United States with the kindless, and he left the United States with the kindless feelings toward them, and to all with whom he came in contact at Washington. For such journals as have endeavored to bring him into ridicule, he says he entertains the feelings of commiscration, rather than of contempt.

Laborers Wanted, TO WORK ON THE GRAND TRUNK Wagon Road from Yale to Cariboo. For further particulars apply to

Wednesday Morning, June 18, 1862. WHY IS IT?—We have noticed for several months past that one of the chain-gang, a German, at large with no chains at all. The offence of selling whisky to Indians is a grave one and deserves severe punishment; but we cannot be convinced that it is any worse than robbing an unsuspecting man of his purse, or in cold blood depriving a fellow-being of his life; and we ask, why is he singled out from other evil-doers and made to boar a cart-load of chains on his person? Is he a dangerous character—has he threatened or attempted to escape? Is he chosen to furnish an awful example comrades and the community and therefore made to bear on his one back the loads which, if justice were done, would be equally distributed among the other members of the gang? Or has he not, in days gone by, given personal offence to certain of the "powers that be" at the Barracks?

SAILORS SCARCE.-The masters of the Lady Young and Alice Thorndyke, the ships lately from New Zealand, have experienced a world of trouble with their crews since arriving here and have lost nearly every man. The glitter of Cariboo gold in their minds' eyes proved too much for the weak temperaments of the men and they therefore struck for the diggings almost immediately after the vessels had dropped anchors in Esquimalt harbor. Both ships will return to New Zealand and Australla with cargoes of lumber and spars if crews can be obtained, of which, however, there is but a poor show here just now, as seamen are scarcely to be obtained at any price.

CHINA.-By way of San Francisco we have China files to April 18th. The rebels are still in the province of Shanghae. Nong-kadza, 12 miles west from Shanghae, had been taken by the Allies. Admiral Hope was wounded in the leg. Eight hundred French troops have left Hongkong under sealed orders for some place on the coast. Foreign ers will be allowed to visit Pekin hereafter under the passport system. At Han-kon and Kin-kiang, ports on the Yang-tze river, there is still considerable disaffection towards foreigners. The Shanghae Steam Navigation Company has just been in-augerated; its object being to furnish a fleet of steamers from the Yang-tze, and probably the coasts of China and Japan.

OREGON .- Dates from Portland, by the arrival OREGON.—Dates from Portland, by the arrival of the steamer Anderson, are to the 14th, and from Lewiston to the 10th. $100,000 in Salmon River gold dust was received at Portland on the evening of the 13th. The river at Lewiston was 3½ feet deep in the stores and still rising. Many build-ings have been swept away. Four men were drowned in the Clear Water River while rafting logs. The news from the diggings is considered favorable by the Times, and the arrival of three German miners with over 3000 ounces, which they had taken out during the winter, is chronicled.

A SAFE SYSTEM .- In consequence of the vile A SAFE SYSTEM.—In consequence of the vine character of the liquor which is dispensed in the Cariboo diggings at 59 cents a thimbleful, the miners have introduced an old but very safe method to test the quality retailed from the different bars. A party will walk into a saloon and ask for drinks, whereupon the bar-keeper takes a small swallow of each kind of liquor asked for. The party then seat themselves and solemnly remain for the space of five minutes watching the effects of the dram, when, if no signs of approaching dissolution be manifested by the barkeeper, the whole crowd conidently advance and imbibe. A friend writes us that in consequence of this treatment Cariboo bar-keepers resemble the sample clerks of an apothecary's shop immediately after testing the strength

SUDDEN DEATH .- Mr. George Eves, a native of Kentucky, U. S., and aged about 29 years, died suddenly at Fort Yale, B, C., on the 12th inst., of gastric fever. Mr. Eves was a member of the wellknown Cariboo mercantile firm of Beedy & Co., and returned from the mines about two weeks ago, when he furnished us with a lengthy statement matters at the diggings, which appeared in our columns at the time. Deceased was unmarried, and formerly resided in Sierra county, California. The remains were interred at Fort Yale on the 13th, and were followed to the grave by a large concourse of sorrowing friends.

DANGEROUS.-Some energetic business man, laudably anxious to catch the eyes of immigrants on their way from Esquimalt to this place, has pasted large placards on the boxes containing the eogs and wheels of the draws of the new bridges, and, as a very natural consequence, spirited horses shy at the sight. On Monday morning a lady was nearly thrown over the draw into the water, and in the afternoon of the same day a gentleman driving a horse and buggy came within an acc of losing his vehicle, if not his life, through this cause. Scrape the posters off. and wheels of the draws of the new bridges, and,

MEN WANTED ON THE TRAILS.—Every road contractor in British Columbia is crying out for more hands. Toe scarcity of laborerers there is only equalled by the scarcity of moncy here. Hundreds of able-bodied men may find work on England, occurs: the roads, if disposed to work until the mining season has fairly commenced, at $40 per month passengers, and $14,000 in treasure. At noon, having taken aboard 150 passengers, 60 tons of frieght, and 15 head of live stock, she left on her return trip.

HIGH WATER .- The water on the Fraser is several feet higher than has been known since banks of that erratic stream were first populated by whites. The Two Sisters (huge rocks in the middle of the river above Union Bar) are entirely covered, and the water washes the string-pieces of the New Westminster wharves.

FROM THE SOUND.—The steamer Eliza Anderson arrived from the Sound yesterday afternoon with a considerable quantity of live stock, and some fruit from the Olympia nurseries. FOR CARIBOO .- Bishop Hills and Archdeacon Wright have gone to British Columbia. The former will visit Cariboo ca business connected with the Church Mission.

If The Northwest is filled with accounts of Collector Smith's defalcations.

Tr We are indebted to Capt John Fleming for late Oregon and Sound papers.

TRHASURH, -- Wells, Fa. .. o & Co. yesterday ship-ped $31,594 per Sierra Nevada for San Francisco. IT The price of passage yesterday by the Enterprise to New Westminster was $2 per head,

Tr The Eliza Anderson will leave for the river at 8 o'clock this morning.

Copper Mines

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST :-- As considereable sums of money have been spent by this community in searching for copper mines, and as it is more than probable that a large proportion of the money who was convicted of selling whisky to Iudians, is loaded down with heavy chains, while several notorious thieves and murderers are permitted to run has been literally thrown away, from the absence so of that knowledge of the business absolutely necessary to guide us in our operations. I have in thought proper to offer for the perusal of your readers, a few important extracts from highly reliable authorities on mining, and which, though they can have no effect on what we have already done, may perhaps serve to enlighten and stimulate us in our future operations.

Thus Veins.—A true vein may be defined as a fissure in the solid crust of the earth, of indefinite length or depth, which has been filled more or less perfectly with mineral substances; or in other words, an aggregation of mineral matter, accompanied by metalliferous ores, within a crevice or dissure which had its origin in some deep-seated cause, and may be presumed to extend for an indicate of the state of t Stovepipes.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST :- Through the medium of your valuable paper I beg to call the attention of the public to the very unsafe manner in which stovepipes are carried through houses and alongside walls. I can point out several places where a most reckless disregard is paid to places where a most reckless disregard is paid to the consequences of fire. Having been a fire, warden in another country where there were wooden buildings such as in this place, and being well acquainted with the mode of procedure that ought to be adopted, I will cheerfully assist any committee that may be appointed to investigate the matter. Cannot the Governor appoint a fire com-mittee; or will it require an Act of the House? J. M.

TALL THROWING .- The Deluge boys with their engine threw a stream twenty feet over the pole in front of their house last evening.

"Columbian Emigration Society."—Rev John Garrett, of London, has published a letter in the London Times, in which the following (said to be) graphic description of the state of thousands of women belonging to the middle class of society

Hundreds of able-bodied men may find work on he roads, if disposed to work until the mining season has fairly commenced, at $40 per month and grub.

1. The Enterprise arrived from New Westminister at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, with 15 minister at 8 o'clock yesterday morning with 15 minis one of them, either as a waitingmaid or a house maid, there is an immediate conspiracy among the professional servants against the intruder, and in a few weeks, with a heavier heart than ever, she is again compelled to seek the shelter of her mother's house, all the worse in her reputation for having a tried servant's place and failed. What useful labourers would those women become in Columbia, as they are virtuous and longing to be employed! If those who have the means would but contribute the funds with which we might bridge the ocean, in a short time many of those great sufferers would become happy and industrious settlers in this rising colony.

Childhood.—The mind of children is the tenderest and holiest thing this side of heaven. And is it not to be approached with gentleness, with love, aye, with a heart-worship of the great God from whom, in almost angel innocence, it has proceeded? A creature undefiled by the taint of the world, unvexed by its injustice, unwearied by its hollow pleasures. A being fresh from the solid by the taint of the world, unvexed by its hollow pleasures. A being fresh from the solid by its hollow pleasures. A being fresh from the set in it. If childhood be this, how holy the duty to see that, in its onward growth, it shall be no other. To stand as watcher at the temple, lest any unclean thing should enter it. CHILDHOOD .- The mind of children is the ten Deprediction of Gold Dust.—California gold dust buyers are purchasing dust with extreme caution. It is found that owing to sulphurets, or foreign matter, says the Grass Valley National, the loss in melting is much greater than formerly. The loss ranges from 4 to 6 per cent. This has had the effect to reduce the price of ravino and sluicing dust from 2 to 4 bits per ounce, and even at this discount buyers can scarcely make themselves whole, we are informed. It is folly to suppose that buyers will pay more for dust than it will coin; and miners must make up their minds to sell for what their dust is worth, or send it to the Mint and have it coined for themselves. No buyer who understands his business will pay out money at a certain loss.
